SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

Eastern States.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22-Specials say the Senate adjourned after over a seven hours' executive session.

The excitement in Washington is greater than at any time since the assas-

The Senate has passed, by a strict party vote a resolution declaring that the President had no authority for his course in the removal of Stanton.

Stanton avows his determination not to leave the office. He remained there during the night, and had his meals sent

It is generally believed that the Reconstruction Committee will immediately report in favor of impeachment.

It is reported that Thomas says he will seize the office by force if necessary, but it is not believed such measures resorted to.

LATEST-Midnight.

Several Senators appeared before Chief Justice Carter, of the District Court, and made affidavit charging Gen. Thomas with violation of tenure of office law, and asking a warrant for his arrest. Justice Carter immediately issued a warrant for the arrest of Thomas, which will probably be served in the morning.

Second Dispatch.

United States.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22-The Committee reconstruction made the following report: Upon evidence collected by the Committee, which is hereinafter presented, and in virtue of the power with which they have been invested by the House, they are of opinion that Andrew Johnson President of the United States should be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors. They therefore recommend to the House the adoption of the accompanying resolution.

Resolved, -That Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors.

Vote was postponed till Monday. WASHINGTON, Feb. 24-The situation this morning appears unchanged. Stanton still remains in the War Office. Every used to remove Stanton, Grant's own body guard, composed of veterans, is placed on duty as a guard. It is positively known that the army is thoroughly with Grant in supporting Congress.

Stanton transmitted to all the headquarters a copy of orders containing the law directing all orders to the army to pass through his headquarters and making it ligh misdemeanor to obey any other.

Both the President and Stanton receivd despatches from all parts of the counry, asking them to stand firm.

The President denies that he intends to use either soldiers or marines to obtain possession of the War Office.

Both the Chicago Republican and Tribune favor immediate impeachment.

day, having left William creek on the 2d inst. The weather continued very cold, the thermometer indicating 22 below zero when he left. The consequence of the continued cold was that mining operations on William creek were almost entirely stopped, owing to the supply of water being cut off. Times were dull, and the "Hurdies" were not making expenses. The markets continued to be well supplied. Flour was retailing at 22cts

a dollar! This was owing to the opposition, which continued without abatement. A Chinaman was frozen to death between Antler and Grouse creeks. The diggings recently struck on Antler creek were paying well and were attracting a good deal of attention. On Grouse creek the Flume Co continued to run out dirt for spring washing; but, with the exception of that, mining operations on Grouse creek had been suspended for the winter. Mosquito creek is the centre of attraction. Everything is lively there. The two great claims, Minnehaha and Wil-'ow, continue to yield as largely as ever. Indeed the former is understood to be increasing in yield! | Everyone now looks forward to startling results on Mosquito next season. Meanwhile the fortunate Minnehahans, and almost equally fortunate Willowites are quietly making their "piles." We are truly glad of it; all the more so from the fact that several of the Minnehabans are amongst our most respectable and deserving fellow townsmen. Mr Walters found cold weather and good travelling all the way down to Lytton. Between that place and Yale travelling was not quite so good. There w s too much snow in some places, and the passage was somewhat impeded by slides and rendered disagreeable by slush. Stock was reported to be wintering well. Business rather dull at Lytton and Yale. Barnard's Cariboo Express would be due at Yale yesterday or to-day. Found travelling very bad from Yale to Sheam Ranch, but all clear below that point - Co'umbian.

FROM CHINA - The American Simoda, 650 tons, Capt. Ira F. Crowell, from Shanghai, anchored in Royal Roads on Satur-rom Shanghai to Alberni Inlet, where she ran in, but finding the lumber mills closed, continued on to Victoria. At Alberni, saw the schooner Codfish, and in the Straits, on Friday night, spoke the American bark Delaware, Capt. Shillaber, 9 days from San Francisco, bound for Port Madison mills The Simoda reports rough weather the entire passage. U.S. Minister Burlingame, wife, and staff, who with other Americans, at la l advices were held as prisoners at Teintsin by the Chinese, was liberated on the appearance opposite the city of a U. S. steamer. The Simoda will probably load at Burrard Inle!

steam-corvette, 1,278 tons, 350 horse power, was commissioned at Sheerness a few days ago for service in the Pacific by Captain Cecil W Buckley, V C. The following officers have joined the ship; - Captain Cecil W Buckley, V C; Lieutenants W Neilson, H G Andre, W H Lewin, and S A R Hamilton; Navigating Lieutenant Jesse Dixon, Surgeon Richard Eustace, and Paymaster Charles O Lindsay. The Pylades was taken for a preliminary run for the trial of her engines on Wednesday, when the result was considered most favourable .- Army and Navy Gazette.

THIS IS PLUCKY. - The Columbian says "The Howe Sound Copper Mining Company held their adjourned meeting on Monday. A motion to rescind and expunge from the minutes the resolution passed at the previous meeting accepting the terms offered by Government was carried unanimously, and the Secretary was instructed to write to the Chief Commissioner of Land and Works, drawing attention to a letter from the Directors of the Company, indicating the conditions they would be willing to accept."

THE GAME LAW came into operation vesterday. According to its provisions, "It shall be unlawful for any person to buy, sell, barter, give or offer, or exhibit for sale any Deer or Elk, from the first day of March to the first day of August; and any Grouse, Prairie Fowl or Partridges, or destroy or collect the Eggs of the Grouse, Prairie Fowl er Partridge, from the first day of March to precaution is taken to prevent force being the 10th day of August, in any year."

ARRIVAL FROM SAN FRANCISCO. The American brig Orient, Capt. Lannan, 15 days from San Francisco, arrived at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. London, Jan. 29—Midnight—Additional particulars of the assault on the Martello tower at Buncannon, on Monday night, are received. After receiving the first fire of the garrison, the attacking party retired, but did not leave the field. They waited until their numbers increased from crowds who seemed near at hand, and again advanced upon the tower, beginning a general disobarge of fire-arms, by which one of the garrison was wounded. When the assailants had almost reached the foot of the tower, the troops again fired and two men were seen to fall. The crowd then fell back and disappeared in the darkness. The two nen shot were carried off by their companions, and it is not known whether they were wounded or killed. The affair has caused great excitement in Wexlord Country. Death of a French Executioner.

France, but who, outliving his fame, like many other artists, has died in the hospital at Carcassone, has brought up the subject of death upon the scaffold once more in France. This Simon had been the hero of many adventures in the course of his career. One of these is recorded as being the original cause of the abolition of branding. An unfortunate culprit being brought up to be marked on the shoulder with a red hot iron by Simon, the latter let the instrument fall just when he had applied it to the flesh, so that the act was not considered valid.

Once more did he heat his iron, and once more did he miss the mark Again a third time did he try amid the terrible yells of the sufferer and the shouts of execration of the populace, until the unhappy wretch fainted away and was borne from

The affair made a great noise at the time; and a young advocate of Montpelier, where it happened, took the poor wretched convict's case in hand and sucd the executioner for damages. The facts were palpable. The man had been since then in that city. The struggle ended in the defeat of Simon and his two assistants, and the culprit was conveyed back to prison amid an emeute of the populace of the town. This time the parques of the South resolved that though forbidden to abolish the punishment of death they were not forbidden to abolish the executioner, and dismissed Simon from his office. But the love of his protession was strong upon him to the last, and he would officiate as amateur whenever the pressional was prevented from attending. His previous instincts were satisfied at last by his appointment to a place as attendant at the dissecting room of the hospital of Lyons, where he remained until, worn out and infirm, he went to die at his native place. Victor was always a Damascas. In the writings of every century for more than four thousand years, its name has been mentioned its praises sung. To Damascus, years are only moments, decades are only flitting trifles of time. She measures time, not by days and months and years but by the empires she has seen rise, and prosper, and crumble to ruin. She is a type of immortality. She saw the foun-dations of Baalbee, and Thebes, and Ephesus laid; she saw them grow into mighty cities, and amaze the world with their grandeur—and she has lived to see them desolate, deserted, and given over to the owls and the bats. She saw the laraclitish empire exalted, and she saw it annihilated. She saw Greece rise and flourish two thousand years, and die In her old age she saw Rome built; she saw it overshadow the world with its power; she saw it perish. The few hundreds of years of Geroese and Venetian might and splendor were, to grave old Damascus, only a trifling scintillation hardly worth remembering. Damascus has seen all that has ever occurred on earth, and still she lives. She has looked upon the dry bones of a thousand empires, and will see the tombs of a thousand more before she dies.

The despatches we give this morning from the American capital are meagre; but sufficient may be gleaned to indicate the alarming condition of the public mind in the United States, and the imminent danger that exists of a bloody conflict between the two great political parties of the Republic. As we surmised a few days ago, the President has made an effort to turn Mr. Stanton, Secretary of War, out of office, and is met by the Congressional party with a determined show of resistance. Stanton, ignoring the President, is supported by the Radical majority in Congress and backed by General Grant. Mr Johnson, on the other hand, claims to lean on the support and sympathy of the Northern people, who so lately endorsed his policy by sweeping majorities, and of with of the gray, including several of the Generals who achieved famo in the late civil war. A collision appears unavoidable, especially should will be debated by the House to-day) pass. The issue of a warrant to arrest General Thomas, the newly appointed Secretary of War, may carry the trouble into the Courts, where it may lie for the remainder of Mr Johnson's torm ; but this is hardly possible. The passed by Congress to take power forbidden, on pain of impeachment, to appointment without the consent of the Senate is liable, on conviction, to pay a fine of $5,000 and suffer impristhe impeachment resolution (which Tenure of Office Act, under which the warrant for the arrest of Gen. Thomas was issued, is one of the numerous bills from the hands of the President and add to their own influence. By the provisions of this Act the President is remove any officer without first obtaining the consent of the Senate; and any person accepting a Presidential onment at bard labor for a term of three years. This law the President vetoed as unconstitutional; but it was passed over his veto, and now Congress claims that the President has rendered himself amenable to impeachment, and General Thomas to fine and imprisonment. Whether the President and the General will quietly submit to suspension from office and arrest cannot be gathered from the despatches within our reach to-day. But Mr. Johnson would scarcely have placed himself in the position he has except he were prepared to meet any issue that should present itself, and could rely upon sufficient torce to bear down any opposition offered to the accomplishment of his plans. It seems strange, too, that a General of the army could be found willing to jeopar. dise his position and prospects by leading the "forlorn hope" of the President's friends, at a time when he must be well aware that the stand he takes renders a conflict almost inevitable, without having some strong assurance of support from his companions in arms. The despatches say that Grant will be sustained by the army; but we incline to the opinion that a majority of the Democrats in the ranks will be much more likely to support the President than to obey Grant, whose personal influence over his men was never very great. McClellan, however, always possessed strong hold upon the affections of his army, and was excessively popular with the rank and file-so much so that when relieved of his command by Mr Lin, coln a mutiny was with difficulty averted. McClellan is a Democrat, and his nomination as Minister to England was undoubtedly made by the President to render the Radicals as unpopular as possible with the army by giving the Senate an opportunity to reject him. The question of peace or war is no longer for the people to answer. The military will henceforth control the destinies of the Republic. The issue rests with the armies. Should the soldiery be almost unanimous in their support of either side there will be a great deal of excitement but no war. But should they be about equally divided in sentiment there is no end of trouble ahead. The next few days are "big" with events of momentous importance to the United States. A conflict before the mag nitude and destructiveness of which insignificance-a conflict that may up-heave the whole political fabric of the country and bring ruin and misery to every hearth-stone-seems imminent.

The two great parties are at daggers drawn. The army is the umpire.
